

AUSTRALASIAN PROTECTIVE SERVICES

Specialists in discrete armed Cash in Transit since 1998

In 1998 Australasian Protective Services Pty Ltd (APS) was one of the first security companies in the country to provide a discrete option for businesses who wanted their banking collected, but didn't want the unwanted attention that high profile uniformed guards can attract.

We provide cash in transit (CIT) services throughout Australia, which makes APS an excellent option for national organisations that wish to have a single provider.

By applying high professional standards to a low profile service we enable our Clients' business to function as desired & without unnecessary risks to staff safety.

We guarantee that your banking is conducted reliably & without threat to your staff, cash or valuables.

We can confidently claim to be the best choice for this service because we have a proven track record & are proud to say we have never had an incident or loss of any kind.

APS is committed to providing the highest quality of service possible & to sound, professional principles of quality management. Our services are comprehensive & individually tailored to the needs of our valued Clients because we understand that all have unique requirements.

Simply put, our Security Officers discretely attend your premises on the day/s nominated by you to collect the banking & then deposit it that same day for crediting to your nominated accounts.

With APS, there is no messing around with numbered security seals or security satchels. To transport your cash to the bank APS utilises the individually numbered single use tamper-evident bags which are provided by the bank or, if required, we can provide APS single use tamper-evident bags. You can be sure of the integrity of your banking whilst in our possession & of course, all money in our custody is fully insured.

Our receipt system is quick, simple & easy, meeting all requirements specified for Audit purposes.

Benefits of APS conducting your banking include:

- ✓ Economically viable alternative to employees conducting the banking;
- ✓ Convenience;
- ✓ Reduced employee down time in non-productive bank visits;
- ✓ Reduced insurance premiums;
- ✓ Improved security of cash; &
- ✓ Reduced risk to employees.

One of the best reasons to have APS conduct your banking is that we do it without anyone noticing. Our discretely armed plainclothed Officers are licensed & highly experienced so do not attract unwanted attention to your premises, business or staff.

A key focus of APS since its inception over 13 years ago has been on providing a superior level of customer service to that provided by our competitors & our aim is achieving 100% customer satisfaction. Our staff are committed to our philosophy & work diligently to ensure this positive outcome.

APS utilises current & late model vehicles which look like standard cars but are specially modified with concealed internal safes plus are fitted with additional security features & items required for CIT duties. All are fitted with GPS systems for tracking & navigation purposes.

Our service includes the collection of cash & cheques plus any other valuable document & the safe delivery of this to your nominated bank.

If required, we can also provide you with petty cash, floats or other change orders as required.

Although APS does not physically replenish ATM machines, we do provide the required replenishment funds from the bank.

Our system has been streamlined over the years & as such is extremely convenient for our Clients. We have a system whereby all change deliveries are paid for via EFT from an account nominated by our Client. This way there is no handling of unsecured cash by your staff or preparing cheques to pay for the change order, plus it is easily auditable.

Conveniently, APS only needs to attend your premises one time, thus allowing your staff to continue to do what they are paid for & not stop to attend to this duty more than once.

Assigning such an important & potentially dangerous task to employees is no longer an acceptable practice & carries common law, OHS&W & workers compensation risks. With the trend of litigation on the rise & with increases in WorkCover prosecutions & penalties, employers are now more at risk than ever before.
